

ROSEBERRY AT WORK.

And Many Cabinet Remors in Circulation in London.

John Morley Likely to Remain Chief Secretary for Ireland.

Majorbank Becomes a Peer, Causing a Fresh Complication.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, March 4.—Queen Victoria, Princess Beatrice and Emperor Frederick of Germany arrived in London at about noon from Windsor, and proceeded to Buckingham Palace.

Lord Rosebery throughout the morning has been conferring with the Cabinet Ministers, and as a result, many political rumors of an interesting nature are in circulation. One of these reports, which seems to be founded on fact, is to the effect that the Rt. Hon. John Morley will retain his position as Chief Secretary for Ireland.

The Cabinet situation is complicated by the death of Baron Tweedmouth, the father of the Right Hon. Edward Majorbank, the Liberal Whip, who may be made a Cabinet Minister, his name being prominently mentioned in connection with the office of Secretary of State for India.

It is said that the Government will further change the Radicals, who have already declared their intention to support the Government if a Peer is made Premier. One of the sisters of the new Baron Tweedmouth is the Countess of Aberdeen, wife of the Earl of Aberdeen, Governor-General of Canada.

It is said to be definitely settled that the Earl of Kimberley, Secretary of State for India and Lord President of the Council, will become Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, in succession to Lord Rosebery.

The House of Lords met at 1:30 P. M. today. There were many ladies present in the galleries.

The royal assent was given to the Local Government bill. The Queen's speech was then read and the House adjourned.

Mr. Gladstone was busy with his secretaries all the morning and received many callers in addition. Among those who conferred with the great Liberal leader this morning were Sir Henry Ponsonby, the Queen's private secretary, and Justin McCarthy, the leader of the Irish Nationalist party.

The Queen's speech, proroguing Parliament, is purely formal, only fifteen lines in length, and begins:

"Upon this occasion, when your labors have been unprecedented in amount and duration, I regret that your release from them will be little more than nominal."

The Queen then thanks the Commons for the supplies granted, and concludes with the remark that she anticipates lasting advantages from the laws enacted.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, today assumed the leadership of the House of Commons, amid enthusiastic cheers from the Liberal benches.

When the Speaker, the Rt. Hon. Arthur Wellesley Peel, and the members of the House of Commons were summoned to the House of Lords in order to hear the Queen's speech, Henry Labouchere and a few Radicals remained.

Later, the Queen's speech was read in the House of Commons and that body adjourned.

Interest now seems to center in the attitude of the Parnellites. The position of the McCarthyites is said to be settled. They are to rely upon the Government to give proper attention to Irish legislation in due course of time.

The followers of Mr. Labouchere seem to have dwindled down to a very insignificant number; in fact, it is claimed that the distinguished Radical now has only two followers. The Parnellites, who, it is said, would not join the Radicals, are more numerous, but John Redmond, their leader, adamantly refuses to commit himself in any way and thus remains master of the situation. The McCarthyites, it is claimed, are not in a position to enforce any demands.

Lord Rosebery visited the Queen this afternoon and kissed her hands on his appointment as Premier. The new Prime Minister was cheered by a large crowd of people upon his arrival at and departure from Buckingham Palace.

A large number of visitors called upon Mr. Gladstone this afternoon, and as the ex-Premier drove through the park he was loudly cheered by all who recognized him.

The St. James' Gazette gives prominence to the report that a reunion is probable between Lord Rosebery and the Liberal Unionists leaders. It is understood that there is a possibility that the latter may come to some understanding with the new Premier in regard to Ireland.

Lord Rosebery is said to have already entered into communication with the Duke of Devonshire and with the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain in regard to the new understanding.

"LORD CREWE ON TRIAL."
He is charged with getting money under false pretenses.

William Sinclair Crewe, who represents himself as an artist, of 45 West Forty-second street, and who is charged by Lloyd Stevens with obtaining money by false pretenses, was placed on trial before Justice Downing in Part III. of General Sessions to-day.

Mr. Stevens claiming that on April 5 last Crewe, who at one time was known in society circles as "Lord" Crewe, went to him and represented that he had an order to paint $4,000 worth of pictures and needed money to buy materials. He also said he had some diamonds and jewelry which he would give to Crewe, and which he had pledged for $600. Mr. Stevens says he advanced Crewe $1,000 on the diamonds and jewelry, and on May 2 last he gave Crewe a check for $1,000, which he has never received.

Crewe is said to have been a man of good family, and was a member of the House of Commons. He was a member of the House of Commons, and was a member of the House of Commons.

CHILD DESERTED IN FRANCE.

Consul at Nice Wants to Find Mr. and Mrs. Whitney.

The Infant Was Born in This City in 1891.

Acting Mayor McCallan received a letter this afternoon from William Hall, United States Consul at Nice, making inquiries for the whereabouts of the parents of a child which was deserted by its mother in France.

The case is likely to develop a romance. The people concerned are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Whitney, who travelled in France for pleasure. They engaged Fanny Bayard as nurse.

On Dec. 12 last Mrs. Whitney said she was going to Genoa, and has not been seen since.

A copy of the marriage certificate which accompanies the letter shows that the deserted child was born in this city in 1891 at East Fifty-ninth street.

The mother's name is given as twenty-two and her maiden name as Withem. The father is described as fifty-one years old and born in England; no occupation.

The doctor in attendance was H. D. Nicol, of 24 East Fifty-seventh street. Nicol said that unless the child is claimed, Fanny Bayard will turn it over to the police and it will be put in a charitable institution.

TO APPEAR IN OPERA.
Mrs. Lederer Said to Have Joined E. E. Rice's Company.

When the story of the disagreement between George W. Lederer and his wife first appeared in print, Charles A. Byrne, whose name figured in the reports of the affair, went to Boston with Mrs. Lederer to see if she could be persuaded to return to her husband.

It is believed that she returned to this city yesterday on the steamer Richard Peck, via New Haven.

A dispatch from that city says that Mrs. Lederer left there for Providence, where it is supposed she will join E. E. Rice's company, and appear in "Princess Kian, or A Trip to Venice," to-night.

JUMPED FROM A CANAL-BOAT.
Attempted Suicide Because Her Husband Abandoned Her.

Mrs. Mary Quick, of Brownville, was arraigned before Justice Tighe, in the Butler Street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning, on the charge of attempting to commit suicide, by jumping from her brother's canal-boat, lying at Fourth street, Governor's Island.

She was arrested with a boat-hook and was arrested and taken to the Eighth Precinct station.

She had been married only a short time and her husband had abandoned her. She was allowed to go.

Purify Your Blood.
The blood is the life and pure blood is necessary in order to have good health.

Medical science has demonstrated that many diseases, such as eczema, scrofula, rheumatism and catarrh, which were formerly treated with local applications, are caused by a impure or impoverished condition of the blood, and the chief reason for the great success of

Hood's Sarsaparilla
In curing these diseases, it acts directly upon the blood and thus removes the cause. This, too, is why the cures effected by Hood's Sarsaparilla are permanent.

ARTIST MUNRO'S WIFE SUES.

Says Her Husband Beat Her and Insulted Her.

Other Domestic Disturbances Aired in Brooklyn Courts.

Justice Van Wyck, in City Court, Brooklyn, today heard testimony in a suit for separation brought by Evelyn H. Munro against Albert A. Munro, an artist, employed by Tiffany & Co.

The couple were married Feb. 6, 1892. Since then they have lived at 411 Pacific street, New Brighton, S. I., and 318 State street, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Munro accuses her husband of striking her in the face and neck, and repeating unpleasant messages which her mother-in-law had sent. Finally she went to live with her mother-in-law, and she declares, her life became more miserable than ever.

Her husband's mother would read reports of divorce cases, and then tell her that the time would not be long when her son would get rid of her. The case is still on.

DIVORCE GOING AGAIN.

Many Cases of Marital Troubles Before Justice Andrews.

A Husband Says His Wife Confessed She Was Married Before.

Justice Andrews, in the Supreme Court, this morning listened to the evidence of several men and women who seek to have their matrimonial bonds severed. There was no defense in any one of them.

The first case was that of Castano Corvato against his wife, Amata Corvato, who lives at 415 East Thirtieth street. Angelo Apra is co-respondent.

Edward M. Mathias wants his marriage annulled. Mrs. Mathias is pretty, and twenty-three years old.

Mathias testified that he was married on July 16 last in Hoboken. Immediately after the ceremony she told him she had been married before, and her husband was still alive.

LAID DEAD IN A LOT.

Body of Common Pleas Clerk Coe Found Near His House.

Probably Stumbled and Fell from the Sidewalk.

Had Been a Court Attache for a Quarter of a Century.

The dead body of Joseph B. Coe, Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, was found in a vacant lot at the southwest corner of Fifth avenue and One Hundred and Fifteenth street at 6:25 o'clock this morning.

The body was cold when discovered by Policeman James Nolan, of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station. Life had evidently been extinct for several hours.

The body lay on a pile of rocks at the bottom of a steep decline about twenty-five feet below the surface of the sidewalk. There were no marks to indicate foul play, excepting an abrasion on the forehead over the right eye.

The police suspect the idea of violence, and declare that death was accidental. At a point directly above the body the fence surrounding the vacant lot was broken, and it is surmised that Mr. Coe either stumbled and fell against the fence, or else in leaning against it, he had given way and he had fallen headfirst, as the position in which the body was found seemed to indicate.

The clothing of the dead man had evidence of a recent fall. A valuable diamond ring was upon the left hand and a small sum of money and other valuables remained in the pockets.

The body was removed to Undertaker Duffy's shop, 132 Third avenue, and there it was kept until this morning.

Mr. Coe was fifty-one years old, and had been clerk in the Court of Common Pleas for a quarter of a century.

He lived at 18 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street, and leaves a widow and six children, four sons and two daughters. One of his sons, Edward M. Coe, lives at 1 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street, and is a clerk in the Court of Common Pleas. Another son is a doctor, who resides in the fire-water district.

The building that was erected a short time ago by Mr. Coe.

From the story of his son's recollection in the Brewster that the body was found in the lot at this morning.

It is said that he had been seen by a servant in the household, but, believing it to be some unfortunate who had tumbled into the dangerous hole, he did not call further attention and passed no remark until the family a short time later had been notified that the dead body had been found almost within the shadow of his own home.

Mr. Coe had been delirious in the fall, and death must have been instantaneous. Aside from this injury and the result of a fall, the body was found in a position which was discovered by the police, who made an examination of the body at the station house.

The family of Mr. Coe agree with the police in the theory that death was the result of an accident. The fence surrounding the vacant lot is rotten and almost useless as a protection to persons passing by, and any one of the series of accidents have occurred at the place during the winter months.

William Ketchum, a clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, who for eighteen years has been associated with Mr. Coe, said this morning:

"I saw Mr. Coe a few minutes after 12 o'clock on Sunday last, and he seemed to be feeling ill, and suggested a remedy."

He said he would try it, and then went out Broadway.

The financial affairs were in excellent shape, and he did not look any the worse for it.

His death was purely accidental."

Mr. Coe was a member of the Trinity Church Sunday School, and was a member of the Lafayette Post, G. A. R. He was Superintendent of the Lexington Avenue Baptist Church Sunday school, and very popular.

Dr. H. D. Coe, examined his father's body at 12 o'clock today. Subsequently an official report was made that there was nothing to indicate that death had resulted from violence.

Dr. Coe's father, who has had numerous attacks of vertigo, "has no doubt he was seized with it while he was walking last night and fell into the hole."

Mr. Coe was a lawyer, but had not practiced since he became court clerk.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.
Sudden Death of Dr. Eunice W. Fisher, of Trinity Church School.

Dr. Eunice W. Fisher, fifty-one years old, of 30 West Twenty-sixth street, was found dead in his bed this morning. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause, as Dr. Fisher had been complaining of late of pains in his side.

Dr. Fisher since his death has been engaged as a teacher in the intermediate department of the Trinity Church Parish School. He is a graduate of the College of the City of New York, and at one time taught in the College.

He is a member of the University Club, and a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society in this city.

Dr. Fisher was married, and his people live on Long Island.

PATRICK FARRELL'S FLIGHT.
His Father Gambles and His Mother Drinks.

Agent Jacob Deibert, of the Gerry School, has unearthed a case of infamy and neglect, and as a result of his investigations, three-year-old Patrick Farrell was committed by Justice McMahon, of Jefferson Market Court, to-day, to the care of the Association for Reformed Children and Young Girls, at White Plains.

The child is the son of Patrick Farrell, a workman in the Jackson Iron Works, in East Twenty-eighth street, and Anne Farrell. The father makes $15 a week, but, according to report, spends the money in gambling. The mother is a drunkard, and in account of abuse and neglect of attention, it is said, little Patrick contracted spinal troubles and partial paralysis of the legs.

SPRING NEEDS.

What Everybody Requires at This Season.

Some Things Are of the Utmost Importance to You.

This Will Tell You Just What You Most Need Now and How to Get It.

In the spring changes always take place in our systems which require attention. There is a tired, languid feeling, a depression, the digestive organs become deranged, the blood is bad, causing the complexion to become sallow and the person feels an inability to work.
